

The U.S. Peace Corps

Since 1960, more than 200,000 Peace Corps Volunteers have served in 139 host countries to work on a wide range of issues including AIDS education, information technology, environmental preservation, business development and learning English. Peace Corps Volunteers continue to help countless individuals who want to build a better life for themselves, their children, and their communities.

Come to the American Center and learn more about the Peace Corps, its mission, history, and current endeavors.
